

BBF RFC 107: Copyright and Licensing of BBF RFCs

Jacob Beal, Drew Endy, David Grewal, Richard Johnson, and Linda Kahl

02 April 2015

1. Purpose

In this BioBricks Foundation Request for Comments (BBF RFC), we update and clarify the copyright and licensing notice of BBF RFC documents.

2. Relation to other BBF RFCs

BBF RFC 107 UPDATES BBF RFC 0.

3. Copyright and Licensing Notice

Copyright © The BioBricks Foundation and all authors listed on this BBF RFC.

This work is made available under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Public License. To view a copy of this license visit <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>

4. Motivation

The BBF RFC process currently is managed by the BioBricks Foundation, and BBF RFC documents are made available as PDF files through DSpace@MIT. Until now notification of the licensing terms for BBF RFC documents have been indicated on the BioBricks Foundation's website and on DSpace@MIT, but have not been included on the actual BBF RFC documents. Because PDF files travel freely over the internet, the lack of a licensing notice on the actual BBF RFC documents has led to unnecessary confusion.

5. Preparing the RFC

Instructions for preparing the RFC SHALL remain as described in BBF RFC 0, with the following change:

Replace "Copyright Notice" with "Copyright and License Notice" whose text should be: "Copyright © The BioBricks Foundation and all authors listed on this BBF RFC. This work is made available under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Public License. To view a copy of this license visit <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>."
